

The 2013 IIDA IDEA Award Winners

Lucas Oil Stadium was the venue for the 2013 Interior Design Excellence Awards (IDEA), hosted by the IIDA (International Interior Design Association) Indiana Chapter. The IDEA Awards offers our Indiana design community an opportunity to share and celebrate their most successful design projects, but also to be inspired by the work of their fellow designers and peers. The keynote speaker this year was Michael Bricker, Co-founder & Chief Innovator of PEOPLE FOR URBAN PROGRESS; an Indianapolis based non-for profit and urban design do-tank. The A&D firms really stepped up with a record number of 46 entries this year, almost double from the previous event. There were 8 categories which showcased some phenomenal talent by Indiana design firms. The guests dressed up in their "cocktail finest" to mingle amongst friends and colleagues and to celebrate the creativity of our fantastic design community. Following the Awards Ceremony, everyone moved upstairs to the "After Party" for some dancing and a decadent "Chocolate Bar".

The Judges for the event were:

Lilliana Alvarado, IIDA, NCIDQ, LEED AP Senior Interior Designer Lavalley | Brensinger Architects Manchester, NH

Amie T. Keener, RID, IIDA, CDT, LEED AP, CDT Interior Designer Gensler Dallas, TX

Paul Cooper, IIDA, NCIDQ, LEED AP Senior Interior Designer Gresham, Smith and Partners

Joey Shimoda, IIDA, AIA Chief Creative Officer Shimoda Design Group Los Angeles, California

Congratulations to our 2013 winners!
